was visited by one of the most terrific storms of lightning, thunder and rain that we ever remember to have experienced and which contipued to rage furiously without intermission for about an hour and a half. We are sorry to bear that the loss of life and destruction of property have been considerable. Several houses were washed down in Tai-ping-shan, two in Scott's Lane, and one in Queen's Road, and the sewer down the whole length of Peel Street from the Mosque to Queen's Road has burst. Many dead bodies have been found amongst the ruins of the houses.
